

LUCE

Multiform and eclectic kitchen where the horizontal sign of the handle is the characterising element but it is never invasive. The square door with a handle, the kitchen that has always been the basic type of contemporary kitchen: Luce is an original interpretation of light by Effe ti, the original one that has marked the stylistic series that is inspired by it, imitated by many kitchen manufacturers. The handle, made of extruded aluminium, is located in the top part of the door, characterising its profile, a visible presence but not an exhibition that guarantees great formal cleanliness and perfect functionality.
